

Satellite Meeting of the International Society for Behavioral Nutrition & Physical Activity 2011

Advancing research on the built environment & active living: Working with policy makers

The Centre for the Built Environment and Health are pleased to invite you to join the International Society for Behavioural Nutrition and Physical Activity (ISBNPA) post-conference satellite meeting on 19-21 June 2011 at The University Club, The University of Western Australia, Perth.

Advancing research on the built environment and active living: Working with policy makers and designing natural experiments

This 2-day satellite symposium aims to help advance the research field of physical activity and the built environment through developing skills and sharing experiences in:

- Identifying and researching policy-relevant questions
- Working with policy makers and practitioners
- Designing and implementing natural experiments

Keynote speakers

The organising committee is pleased to announce confirmation of the following keynote speakers:

- Professor Jim Sallis (San Diego State University, USA)
- Professor Adrian Bauman (University of Sydney, Australia)
- Professor Neville Owen (University of Queensland, Australia)
- Dr David Ogilvie (University of Cambridge, UK)

Provisional programme

Sunday 19 June

Afternoon (2.30pm): Optional afternoon "round the river" bike ride

Evening (6-8pm): Welcome reception/ sundowner

Monday 20 June

Professor Jim Sallis (San Diego, USA) will present on policy-relevant research directions and the need for evaluations of policy implementation

Professor Adrian Bauman, Professor Neville Owen and Professor Fiona Bull (UWA) will lead sessions on working with policy makers and industry partners in designing 'opportunistic' evaluations.

Professor Billie Giles-Corti (UWA) and Dr David Ogilvie will present their experiences from the RESIDE Project and iConnect, respectively. David Ogilvie will also present the forthcoming UK guidelines for evaluating natural experiments.

Tuesday 21 June

Participants will work in groups to discuss and develop natural experiments and evaluation designs for local environmental interventions or developments with materials prepared by the CBEH team.

Group presentations will receive feedback from our panel of experts (including planning and design policy makers and practitioners), providing an opportunity for all to learn from the challenge.

Optional closing social dinner

Discover Perth

Set on the banks of the spectacular Swan River, UWA is based in the State's sparkling capital Perth, one of the nation's fastest growing urban centres. Perth offers cultural diversity and sophistication combined with a relaxed lifestyle and friendly vibe. Perth's delightful Mediterranean climate, clean airspace and pristine coastline, allow for a diverse social program. Beyond Perth participants can discover the beauty of the natural attractions in the regional areas of Western Australia offering a diverse range of travel experiences.

Co-chairs Professors Fiona Bull and Billie Giles-Corti and the C_BEH team look forward to welcoming you to Perth in June!
